Key Goals of the DVN Lidar Community

We need to build a co-operative community to build the future of the Lidar technology and speed-up its adoption.

Firstly, the benefits of LiDAR for road safety, automated driving and automated parking must be clearly defined and promoted to OEMs, National Transportation Agencies and to the public.

Secondly, LiDAR is a new technology that is still maturing and there is a need to analyze and report on technical trends and performance improvements for different applications.

Thirdly, adoption road-blocks must be clearly understood and addressed - including the deployment of automated driving applications, related regulations and market expectations for car integration and costs.
